Pruning Osage Orange Hedges.

Now is the time to commence pruning the Osage Orange hedge. The wood is soft and can easily be cut with a corn knife. The hedge can readily be put into any shape. The chief object in pruning it, is to make it close, compact and dense at the base, so as to prevent stock from getting through it. This is accomplished by cutting off the tops and throwing the growth into the laterals. In the early stages of the hedge, the laterals, too, should be cut back, for the purpose of securing more laterals and a denser, thicker, growth. Hedges need frequent attention and pruning in summer. The strong shoots need lopping off at any time. A nice, even growth, should be encouraged. Our timber is so scant, and is so fast disappearing, that we are, and shall be, compelled to resort to hedging. The Osage Orange is the best tried hedge plant. With proper care and attention, we know it will make an excellent hedge—better than any rail fence. But securing and planting the plants is the smallest part of the work. They need nice cultivation and careful pruning for many years, and when the hedge is once established it is good for a lifetime. Therefore don't neglect the hedge. Try and make it perfect. Encourage the weak plants and repress the strong ones. Put it in comely shape. Work at it, any time, that it needs attention. During all the summer months it can be pruned, trained, and perfected.—[Rural World.]

Sol. Millerism.

"Curses, like chickens, come home to roost." Perhaps this is why Greeley is inviting Breckinridge and other leading rebels to return to the United States.

President Johnson, in his late speech at Raleigh, plaintively inquired: "The friends of my youth, where are they?" Echo might have answered: "They sleep with the Confederate dead."

We are reminded of the fact that the weather is very hot, by seeing the Indians sauntering about snugly enveloped in heavy blankets and military overcoats. In winter they will go half naked.

The committee of arrangements of the Clay statue inauguration were compelled to revise Prentice's ode, so that it would not be offensive to Union people. Prentice's ode has always been bad with loyal men.

Horace Greeley, in bailing Jeff. Davis, was undoubtedly influenced, in a great measure, by his religious belief. Horace is a Universalist, and believes that the only hell is on this earth. He does not wish to have that theory broken up by exterminating the devils.

Greeley claims that he went on Jeff. Davis' bond to allay his soreness of feeling at being detained in prison so long without a trial, and to produce a kinder sentiment toward the North among Southern people. Horace deserves the title of "Jeff. Davis' Pain Killer."

DOES WHEAT TURN TO CHEAT?

This is one of the questions on which the best of farmers will differ. Those who take the affirmative of the question will have their belief strengthened by the following facts: Mr. E. B. Robson, of this county, a good farmer and perfectly reliable, sowed a field of seven acres in wheat last fall. It came up finely—grew well—and two weeks ago he supposed it would yield thirty bushels to the acre. Last week he went into it to cut out a few heads of rye that were headed out. While doing this he carefully examined the wheat, the heads of which were just bursting. To his great surprise he found no wheat at all, but cheat, everywhere cheat. He looked the field over, and it was all cheat. Mr. Robson says he sowed good wheat. How did it disappear—and how came the cheat in its place? A whole field of it is astonishing.—[Lincoln Review.]

CLERGYMEN.—Some people talk a great deal about ministers and the cost of keeping them, paying their household expenses, and other items of salary. Did such croakers ever think that it costs $35,000,000 to pay the salaries of American lawyers; that $12,000,000 are paid out annually to keep our criminals, and $10,000,000 to keep the dogs in the midst of us alive, while only $6,000,000 are spent annually to keep 6,000 preachers in the United States? These are facts, and statistics will show them to be facts. No one thing exerts such a mighty influence in keeping this republic from falling to pieces, as the Bible and ministers.

MAJOR CLEMENTS of Macon City is about starting a new Radical paper. The Major is an experienced "knight of the quill," and let us hope the cause of the Radical Union party will find in him an able and willing supporter.—[Hannibal Courier.]

A NEAT HIT.—The editor of the Tidouste (Pa.) Journal comes down on a giggling woman of that locality in the following racy manner:

"Fair. The lady (!) who yesterday called the attention of another to our patched breeches, whereat they both laughed so heartily, is informed that a new pair will be purchased when her husband's 'little bill' is settled. It has been due us nearly a year."

"Notes.—First—When you speak disparagingly of a passer by, and do not wish to be heard, talk low. Second—Don't criticize the printer's dress too closely, while wearing silks purchased with money due him. Third—Tell your husband to send us $23.70 at once and save costs of an entire suit."

The Portland Transcript says: "We heard an anecdote the other day which amusingly illustrates John Bull's incapacity to appreciate anything that isn't English. The weather was somewhat foggy, and one of the sailors belonging to a Liverpool steamer in our harbor was heard to say to one of his mates: 'This is weather as is weather—none of your blasted blue sky!'"

A NEW island, twenty miles long, has been discovered in the North Pacific Ocean, exactly in the track of vessels for San Francisco from Japan and China. Several wrecks have been found on the island, among others that of the ship Canton, which has never been heard from since 1816.

Is the beginning woman consisted of a single rib? Now she's all ribs from her belt to the rim of her petticoat.

Reparator Capilli.

Throw away your false frizzes, your switches,
your wig—
Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig;
Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair,
And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair.

Reparator Capilli.

For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say, how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different Preparations advertised for the hair and beard
are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your Druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned on application, providing entire satisfaction
is not given. Address,
